

Takeaway: upstream scalar quality directly controls final curve error budget; robustness is quantifiable and operating-range dependent.